THIS valuable Medicine, which has become celebrated for the number of extraordinary cures ffected through its agency, has induced the proprietors, at the urgent request of their friends, to offer it to the public, which they do with the utmost confilease in its virtues and wonderful curative proper ties. The following certificates, selected from a large aumber, are, however, stronger testimony than the mere word of the proprietors; and are all from gen-lleman well known in their localities, and of the highextrespectability, many of them residing in the city of Richmond, Va.

P. BOYDEN, Enq., of the Exchange Hotel, Rich non!, known everywhere, says he has seen the Mediine called Carrin's Spanish Mixture, administered n over a hundred cases, in nearly all the diseases for which it is recommended, with the most autonishingly and cine he havever meen.

servicy that for three years I had Ague and Feyer of he most violent description. I had several Physidans, took large quantities of Quinine, Mercary, and pera mentrelief. At last I tried Carter's Spanth distance, two bottles of which effectually cured me, and I am happy to say I have had neither Chills or Yevers since. I consider it the best Tonic in the world, and the only medicine that ever reached my JOHN LONGDEN.

C. B. LUCK, Esq., now in the city of Richmond, and for many years in the Post Office, has such confitence in the astonishing efficacy of Carter's Spanish dixture, that he has bought upwards of 58 betties, which he has given away to the afflicted. HAMPTON, now in fine health, in the 79th year of his age. He was born in Virginia in the year 1775, and emigrated to Kentucky, then a wildersess, with his father in 1779. In early manhood he was so re duced by disease as to be almost wrecked in constitution. He spent much of his living for medical advice and attention; and grew nothing better, but worse. Finding no relief from his physician, he resolved to try the restorative powers of the roots, barks, leaves, plants, &c., of the forest. He then dwelt in the midst of the Red Men of the Western Wilds. Having heard much of their skill in the use of the vegetable remedies of the forest, and k: owing their mode of medicinal practice must be one of practical experience, and not of theoretical specula tion, he made himself acquainted with their remedies, and also with the practical medicinal knowledge the early settlers of Kentucky had obtained from the "medi ine men" of the Indians. He care fally studied the nature of the medicines used by them, combined them according to the light he received, used them as he had been taught, and had the cheering satisfaction of finding disease driven from his emaciated body, and vigorous health given in its stead. His case was of no ordinary kind, but astonishing to his friends and neighbors. The fame of it spread; the people far and near sent to the octor for his successful and wonderful combinaon of Indian Remedies, which was freely given to them, until the cases became so numerous, and the demand so great, that the Doctor was advised by his friends and induced through justice to himself, to put up his Vegetable Tincture in bettles, and charge a price for it, which was reely given-finding its way into the first and most intelligent families, and astonishing all by its wonderful cures, commanding certificates and testimony in its favor from the lead-

NEW MEXICAN SUGAR .- It is said that limost all fruits, grains, and vegetables which grow in the clear dry climate of Mexico, are remarkable for their extraordinary sweetness. The common corn stalk abounds in saccharine matter to such an extent as to furnish the native population with molasses, which, although hardly as good as the inferior molasses of Louisiana, might doubtless be much improved by a more perfect mode of manufacture than that adopted by the thing to meet, in the Eastern counties native population.
